Instruction and Faculty Services Librarian
University of Georgia School of Law – Athens, GA

The Alexander Campbell King Law Library at the University of Georgia School of Law seeks an enthusiastic, collaborative, and service-focused individual to serve as the Instruction and Faculty Services Librarian. The Instruction and Faculty Services Librarian’s primary duties include implementing and supporting research services for law school faculty, teaching first year, advanced and specialized legal research courses, and supporting the reference desk. This position will report to the Associate Director for Research Services.

APPLICATION PROCEDURE:
Interested applicants should submit a cover letter, resume and a list of three references at http://www.ugajobsearch.com/postings/142393. Applications will be accepted until the position is filled.

DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES
The Instruction & Faculty Services Librarian will:

- Faculty Services (40%): Promote and provide research services for law school faculty. Coordinate the faculty current awareness program. Assist faculty members in increasing the impact of their scholarly publications. Design and implement assessment measures to gauge faculty satisfaction with library services.

- Instruction (30%): Teach 1L legal research and/or advanced legal research as well as undergraduate and specialized legal research courses in in a variety of formats, including fully online, hybrid or blended, and face-to-face instruction. Provide additional instructional delivery of research skills to law students and non-JD UGA students through course specific in-class lectures, topical workshops, and programs in conjunction with School of Law student services and career development.

- Research and Reference (20%): Provide in-person and virtual reference services. Assist in conducting research for law school administrative offices in support of the law school’s strategic initiatives.

- Other Duties as Assigned (10%): Participate in professional, scholarly, and service activities. Responsible for special projects as needed.

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS:
A J.D. from an ABA-accredited law school and an ALA-accredited master’s degree in librarianship or information science. Degrees must be completed prior to candidate’s starting date of employment.

PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS:

- Mastery of advanced legal research skills including ability to conduct in-depth research, synthesize research results, and deliver a high quality, comprehensive final product. Ability to plan, design, implement, and evaluate services and programs.
- Demonstrated ability to work with educational technologies and knowledge of legal research instruction design.
- Excellent verbal and written communication skills. An established record of service and teamwork. Proven ability to coordinate complex activities and develop new services.

SALARY:
Commensurate with qualifications and experience

BENEFITS:
Standard benefits package includes life, health, and disability insurance; mandatory participation in the state or optional retirement system (TIAA/CREF, etc.); 21 days annual leave; and 12 paid holidays. More information at http://www.hr.uga.edu/benefits.

Initial interviews may be conducted by phone or video chat.

Position available: July 1, 2020

CONTACT: TJ Striepe, Associate Director for Research Service, tstriepe@uga.edu

ABOUT US: The Alexander Campbell King Law Library has a rich, established collection of over 500,000 digital and print titles. We are dedicated to providing anytime/anywhere access to information, rich and expansive instructional offerings and strong support of law school faculty and administrative offices. The Law Library has a cooperative atmosphere and supports professional development. The University of Georgia is located in Athens, Georgia, considered one of the best college towns in the country. Find out more at http://www.libs.uga.edu/athens.

The University of Georgia is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action/Non-Discrimination employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, ethnicity or national origin, religion, age, genetic information, disability, or veteran status. The Law Library is committed to diversity in its staff and encourages all qualified persons to apply. Persons needing accommodations or assistance with the accessibility of materials related to this search are encouraged to contact Central HR (facultyjobs@uga.edu). Please do not contact the department or search committee with such requests.

Apply at: http://www.ugajobsearch.com/postings/142393