James Donovan
University of Kentucky
Vice President / President Elect Candidate

Statement:

SEAALL enjoys a well-earned reputation as a preeminent chapter with AALL. A disproportionate number of our profession's leaders have been members of SEAALL, participating in its high-caliber events, programs, and other career development opportunities.

Having spent the whole of my professional life within the SEAALL region, I am keenly aware of the responsibility of its officers to continue and expand upon this fine tradition. Through those years I am most proud of my small efforts to introduce and encourage new members to the librarian profession; should I be chosen as its next Vice President/President Elect, I would give special attention to the opportunities within SEAALL to foster similarly the field's new voices.

While any candidate should be humbled at the challenge, I believe the length and scope of my activities within law librarianship will provide a solid basis for leading SEAALL. I welcome this opportunity to continue to serve this special organization.

Francis X. Norton, Jr.
Loyola University New Orleans
Vice President / President Elect Candidate

Statement:

I am truly honored to be a candidate for SEAALL Vice-President/ President Elect. SEAALL is a very special organization: it is small enough that every member can play an active role if they so choose, and yet it has all of the resources of a large association. The combination of these two facets allows SEAALL to mount an exemplary annual meeting. Wonderful educational programs hosted by talented librarians, festive activities, and just the right amount of time for networking make for an enjoyable experience for all attendees.

I look forward to being part of an enthusiastic group of volunteers who work hard to make SEAALL the premier association that it is.

Kate Irwin-Smiler

Wake Forest University

Treasurer Candidate

Statement

I started my law library career before graduating from college, serving as a library intern at the Supreme Court library in Washington D.C., and processing government documents in my undergraduate library. During library school and immediately after graduation, I worked as a librarian for the New York State Defenders Association. I was only vaguely aware of ALLUNY, the local AALL chapter; our two-person library didn't afford us much chance to participate in professional organizations. My first professional academic position was at Western New England College (now University) School of Law, where I worked as a Reference Librarian (eventually Senior Research Librarian) and completed law school in the part time program. I was fortunate enough to have joined a library staff that encouraged participation at all levels of AALL, and I was an active member of Law Librarians of New England during my six years in that territory. Moving to Wake Forest School of Law in 2008 as a Reference Librarian has allowed me to continue participating at the national, regional, and SIS levels. I have previously served as a member of the SEAALL Education & Publication, Handbook Revision, and Annual Meeting Program committees, and I currently serve on the Post-COSELL task force.

I have not previously served as treasurer, but I welcome the opportunity to round out my service to the profession and gain a better understanding of the financial side of our organization. I feel a responsibility towards SEAALL, as someone whose job, workplace, and skills encourage this involvement.

Donna Trimble

Bowman and Brooke LLP

Member-at-Large Candidate

Statement:

During my time in Minnesota, I was very active in MALL both on the Executive Board and as a member and chairperson of several MALL committees. Now that I am settled in South Carolina I look forward to becoming more involved in SEAALL. Many firm librarians, especially in firms with small library staffs, do not get the support needed from their administrators to participate fully in professional organizations. I am fortunate to work in a firm that is supportive of these activities. Because of that I feel it is my responsibility to serve in whatever capacity possible to represent the viewpoint of firm librarians. I would welcome the opportunity to serve on the SEAALL board.
